Schools Honored

Actors and actresses honored by the Grayling Archery Society this week among the top in the north central area. Fred Burkhausen and Janice Beery Miss Beery will be for her title role in "The Worker" and her performance in "The latter play" by the Grayling Archery Society at the One-on-One at Central University this spring. Among the top 150 in the area were Gary Knibbs and Dane of Grayling.

is Courts Busy

Opening of the new program of the Crawford County Schools, the elementary school is getting a workout. It meets each morning for three hours of instruction. Seventy-four are presently actively in the new tennis program. Interest seems very high on the courts does with the close of the summer. Under the supervision and teaching of Roy Christian, students are taught the basic fundamentals of tennis play, and as the student to these basic fundamentals to enjoy the fine recreation they are involved in. The strong desire for a better game instilled in the students by their tennis courts are very busy at the afternoon and night hours.

The tennis courts are being used so extensively for the intended purpose, we like to ask those people who use the courts for other purposes, such as a place for playing and stone throwing, to refrain from doing this. Tennis instruction is lost each morning because the nets have to be put up and the stones swept courts.

High the crowds were at last week's square and Tennis Court Page 8)

Something New Is Added

This issue of The Avalanche is a bit smaller and perhaps a bit later for some of our readers. Beginning with this issue, The Avalanche will join more than 100 other Michigan newspapers in adopting the new, modern offset printing process. Main difference with the old paper-on-type printing method is that offset uses photographic processes for reproduction.

The new Avalanche style will wed the advantages of conventional hot-lead preparation with the advantages of offset printing.

The newspaper will be prepared in Grayling by our regular staff, but the actual press work will be done on new, modern offset presses at Panax Press in Mt. Pleasant.

Because of the time element in taking page proofs to Mt. Pleasant and returning the finished product, The Avalanche will now appear on the newsstands early Wednesday afternoon instead of Wednesday morning.

In addition to giving us more time to do more things here in Grayling for a bigger and better Avalanche, other advantages of the new printing method should be clearer printing, more attractive pictures, greater flexibility for our advertisers, use of color, and several other points.

The size of the Avalanche will shrink from 18 inches wide to 16 inches wide, which is nearer standard newspaper size.

We recognize there may be some bugs in the new system, and it will require some internal adjustment.

But we here at The Avalanche believe our change will result in a better product and therefore be of more service to our readers, our advertisers, and the community.

After all, that's why we're in business.

Ausable River Property Owners Offer Help To Solve River Woes

By Kenneth L. Peterson

The City of Grayling was commended for its progress in seeking an answer to pollution of the Ausable River at a meeting here June 17 of the Ausable River System Property Owners Association.

City Manager Harold Cliff told members of the association, meeting in the Grayling Bowhunters clubhouse, experiments with secondary chemical treatment of the effluent at the municipal sewage plant show 80 per cent of the nutrients, primarily phosphates, can be removed from the effluent.

Cliff added that it is hoped that this can be raised to 90 or 95 per cent. He showed samples

The Water Resources Commission has urged the city to take interim as well as long-term solutions to the sewage problems.

In congratulating the city for its action, Harrison Goodhue, Birmingham, president of the property owners association, said the association will "do everything in its power" to cooperate with the city and with Roscommon and any other agency involved to solve the river problems.

He explained that the association, comprised of property owners on all branches of the Ausable—both permanent and summer residents—has as one of its objectives the prevention and control of pollution of streams in the Ausable watershed.

He said the association also hopes that adequate zoning ordinances will be established along the stream to maintain the quality of the water and protect natural forest and plant growths.

Among the zoning objectives is the establishment of a green belt a half-mile wide along the river and the control within this strip of lot sizes and housing concentration.

Riverfront lots of a minimum width of 200 feet are sought, with building restricted to at least 100 feet from the river. Such an ordinance ideally also would control removal of trees along the river and "sweepers" in the stream.

It would require that septic tanks meet sanitation specifications that would prevent pollution of the river.

Goodhue said the association recognizes these are ambitious goals that are difficult to achieve.

He said the association has (See Ausable River, Page 8)

The campers were told how to care for a horse, the proper method of saddling, and finally how to mount.

LITTLE LEAGUE GAMES!

Action, scoring, pitching duels, headsup baseball and tense excitement sums up action at the local diamond this past week.

A. J. Sorenson sluggers, undefeated in seven games, stormed over the Military 11-0 and 3-0.

The Legion shut out the Moose 1-0 in one of the finest pitching duels between Randy Sadjak of the Legion and Jim McClain of the Moose. Many fielding gems in this game also. Later the Moose came out of the woods and nosed out the Legion 3-2.

A few box and bleacher seats are still available for this week's games, so hurry out to the park.

Notice the game between Sorenson and Moose on the 4th of July is rescheduled for Friday, July 7th.

Crawford County Recreational Activities

It's Caddis time in Crawford County. The Main Stream Ausable, South Branch, North Branch, Upper Manistee River, and large tributaries should have the big Drakes appearing nightly. Trout fishermen should watch rivers closely, especially heavier sections of the streams.

Wakeley's Yellow Bug, Skunks, and Robert's Yellow Drake have been the fly to use during day time, and Yellow and Green Stone Flies in the evening. Bait fishermen and spin casters are still making nice catches on those portions of the Ausable watershed not restricted to quality fishing.

Pan fishing, bass, and northern pike are being taken on Lake Margrethe, KP Lake, Shupac, and Jones Lake.

Water levels have dropped from highs of last week and all canoeing trails of Crawford County are ideal to use. Upper Manistee River and all branches of the Ausable are near normal. The opportunity for canoeists to view wildlife and birdlife along the banks of rivers is unexcelled and patient wildlife observers in early morning hours can see deer, lawn, racoon, fox, mink, and many other species of animals whose habitat is the forest of the county.

KEEP OUR REGION FREE OF LITTER

Each of the boys and girls were given an opportunity to ride a horse on a mile-long trail. Riding was done in groups of fifteen. While some groups were horseback riding, others were enjoying rides on the old-fashioned Stage Coach. For many of the youngsters, this was the first experience, either on horseback or riding the stage coach. Meantime, other groups were having a delightful time riding the train, "Lil Smokey."

Following the regular mid-morning break for free milk, groups were then taken on a haywagon ride. At the end of the trail, a Western Chuck wagon cook-out was held, consisting of hot-dogs, chips, donuts, and ice cold pop. There was plenty of food, each child being allowed as much as he wanted to eat. Mrs. Don Ferguson and Mrs. Garrett Bufe served as chefs for the cook-out. For the return trip back to the riding stables, part of the group 'enjoyed' a two-mile hike, due to a breakdown of one of the wagons.

The final event of the day consisted of a series of softball games. A highlight of this part of the program was the Frederic 'Apaches' 5 to 0 victory over the Grayling 'Comanches'.

In spite of the full day of varied events, only two casualties resulted. One youngster was scratched by a branch when her horse left the trail and went into the trees. Another youngster fell and bruised his face when he tried to run down the side of Bear Mountain.

The next scheduled excursion for the Crawford-Ausable Day Camp will be held on Friday, July 8. At that time the campers and staff will take an all-day trip to Fort Michilimackinac at Mackinaw City. After visiting the fort, the group will then travel to Wilderness State Park, located approximately eight miles west of Mackinaw City, where they will have a picnic. The trip is free to those youngsters who have been faithful in attendance during the previous two weeks.

ARC Representative Calls In Grayling

Mr. George Hutchins, area field representative for the American Red Cross, and Mrs. Leo Jorgenson, chapter chairman on Service to Military Families, met Thursday evening, June 22nd at the home of Mrs. Howard Morse, chairman, Crawford Co. Chapter, ARC.

Time was spent discussing the local chapter's urgent needs for funds and PUBLIC support. Current changes being made in the present ARC programs were explained, a state-wide survey to evaluate present practices, effect of recent changes, and needs for future improvement and expansion of services.

Plans were made for a Fall Funds and Membership drive. — October is the tentative date. We did NOT meet our quota in the Spring campaign and have barely enough funds to maintain the Service to Military Families commitments, or to pay our share of the next bloodmobile. We do have one happy note, fund-wise; we, as a chapter, at this date, are OUT of debt!

Grayling's Winter Sports Queen Miss Michigan 1st Runnerup

By Marilyn G. Longworth

A great honor came to Grayling on Saturday evening, high atop the L. C. Walker Arena in Muskegon, when Miss Mary Louise Paxton Miss Michigan Winter Sports 1967, captured a place in the 10 semi-finalists named. While TV cameras whirled, flashbulbs flashed, directors signaled, and spotlights glowed with approximately 7,000 people present, Mary Lou along with the other nine semi-finalists performed their talent, swimsuit, and evening gown presentations.

M. S. U. Graduate

Walter W. Fallon, Jr.

Walter W. Fallon, Jr., 1963 graduate of Grayling High School, completed requirements for his Bachelor's Degree in Business Science on June 12, 1967, at Michigan State University, East Lansing. Walt received his degree in Personnel Management and is one of 35 out of 1800 who have been accepted into graduate school, so will return to Michigan State in September to begin work on his Masters degree in Human and Labor Relations.

Walt was a member of Alpha Kappa Psi for three years, serving as Vice-President and Chairman of the Professional Committee. He and his wife Pamela are spending the summer at Lake Margrethe.

This then was the setting after a gruelling week of rehearsals, parades, luncheons, personal appearances, and personal interviews with the five judges who were: Mr. Jack F. Broderick of Davenport, Iowa, a Prosecuting Attorney and Executive Director of the Miss Iowa Pageant; Mrs. Ann LaSalle of Wabash County, Indiana, a Province Officer with Kappa Kappa Kappa, Inc., and Miss Indiana 1952 and 1st runner-up to Miss America 1952; Mr. John Robert Pitts of Greenville, South Carolina, and the Producer-Writer-Director of the Miss South Carolina Pageant; Mrs. H. Leslie Popp Jr. (Carol Mitchell), Miss Indiana of 1951 and 1st runner-up to Miss America of 1951; and Mr. William D. Hamilton of Louisville, Kentucky, Vice President of the Louisville Jr. Chamber of Commerce and the Executive Director of the Miss Kentucky Pageant.

Following the appearance of all 10 semi-finalists, Mary Lou was named one of the five finalists. Personality questions were then directed to the five finalists. There followed exciting moments when Miss East Detroit, Nancy Suzanne Raisanen was named 4th runner-up; Miss Alpena, Linda Kaye Christie, 3rd runner-up; Miss Boyne, Linda Hale, 2nd runner-up. This then left our Mary Lou one of the remaining — with hearts in our mouth — we heard the following announcement by Debbie Bryant Miss America 1966: "This is the second most important announcement of the evening, as the 1st runner-up must stand prepared at all times to step into the position of Miss Michigan should unforeseen events take place". 1st runner-up to Miss Michigan, Miss Michigan Winter Sports Mary Louise Paxton. With disappointment, but a real sense of pride for Mary Lou, we heard Miss Michigan Junior College Toni Jo Abbenante proclaimed Miss Michigan 1967.

With a real sense of pride, I took part in the following press (See Queen Page 8)

To Construct $212 Million Pipeline

Construction of a new $212 million natural gas pipeline through Michigan, Wisconsin and Minnesota will begin immediately, it was announced today following approval of the joint American-Canadian project by the Federal Power Commission.

The pipeline, which will be 1,000 miles long and 36 inches in diameter, will be built and operated by the Great Lakes Gas Transmission Company, a new company jointly owned by American Natural Gas Company and Trans-Canada Pipe Lines Limited of Toronto. American Natural is the parent company of Michigan Consolidated Gas Company and Michigan Wisconsin Pipe Line Company, Detroit; Wisconsin Gas Company, Milwaukee; and Central Indiana Gas Company, Muncie.

In addition to the consuming areas of eastern Canada, the new line will make it possible to bring natural gas service in 1968 to the eastern part of the Upper Peninsula, which is the only major area of the state without a natural gas supply.

Ralph T. McElvenny, president of American Natural and its largest subsidiary, Michigan Consolidated, said construction of the first segment of the pipeline - 157 miles between Clare, Michigan, and Sarnia, Ontario - will begin "just as soon as we get men and equipment on the job, a matter of only a few days."

When completed in the fall of 1968, the pipeline will stretch from Emerson, Manitoba, through Minnesota and northern Wisconsin, across Michigan's Upper Peninsula, under the Straits of Mackinac and through lower Michigan to St. Clair and then under the St. Clair River to Sarnia. The entire length, except for river crossings, will be 36 inches in diameter, making it the largest, long distance transmission gas line in this part of the country. A 10-inch branch line will run 43 miles from a point west of St. Ignace to the twin cities of Sault Ste. Marie, Michigan and Ontario. This line

HEALTH DISTRICT 1 HOLDS MEETING

The District No. 1 Board of Health held its regular meeting Wednesday, June 21, 1967 at the Wexford County Courthouse.

Alternates, Mr. Clyde Clendenning of Wexford County and Mr. Earl Broadbent of Crawford County substituted for Mr. William Powell and Mr. Frank DeWitt, respectively.

Election of officers being the first order of business concluded with the re-election of Mr. John English as Chairman of the Board and Mr. Mearl Burkett as vice-chairman.

The Chairman followed with the continued discussion of a Retirement plan for employees. The matter was tabled for further study.

The application for Medical Director from Dr. Girard Veenschoten was reviewed and discussed. Correspondence from Dr. Albert Heustis, State Director of Public Health with regard to the State Department approval of Dr. Veenschoten was read and discussed.

As Dr. Veenschoten was committed to final exams at the School of Public Health and was unable to be interviewed by the Board of Health, the Board moved to tentatively approve Dr. Veenschoten as Medical Director for District Health Department No. 1 subject to interview by the Board of Health at a special meeting set for July 12, 1967 at the Missaukee County Courthouse.

Planning Commission Studies Lakes

by Willard Bosserman
County Extension Natural Resource Agent

The Roscommon planning commission has been making a study of the lake problems in the county. The "inland lake improvement act 1966" was discussed as a possible means of getting something done to improve the lakes.

The law enables a local unit of government upon its own or by a petition of 1/4 of the freeholders owning lands abutting the lakes to form a lake board. The lake board can proceed with the necessary steps in getting lake improvements made. The board consists of a member of the board of supervisors, a representative of each local unit of government. If Houghton Lake were to organize a lake board each of our four townships surrounding the lake would have a representative. For Higgins Lake, Gerrish, Lyon and Beaver Creek townships would have representatives. Grayling townships would have the sole representative for Lake Margrethe. Other members on such a board would be, a member of the county road commission and a representative of the Michigan Department of Conservation.

Most of the cost of improvements would come from an assessment district made up of property owners who would benefit from improvements. Determining the assessment district is a most tedious job. It is difficult to determine the degree of benefit each property owner receives. If the county had the money it may provide for a revolving fund to pay for the preliminary cost. These funds have to be repaid by the assessment district.

Smokey Says:

Letters Of Interest

Mr. Art Clough, Jr., Sheriff
Crawford County
Grayling, Michigan

Dear Sir:

I wish to take this opportunity to congratulate you on the courteous and helpful manner in which one of your Deputies aided me and my family during the recent overturn of our sail boat on Lake Margrethe, Tuesday, May 30, 1967.

In our excitement I failed to secure his name and address and would appreciate your providing me with it so that I may personally express my thanks to him for his wholehearted cooperation.

You can rest assured that this Deputy is a great asset to any organization, and you, as Sheriff of Crawford County, should be a very proud person to have a man of his caliber as your assisting Police officer. Congratulations for a job well done, for which we are all deeply grateful to your Deputy and the Sheriff's Department of Crawford County.

Sincerely yours,

The Drowning Season

Swimming weather brings to mind the fact that each year thousands drown because sensible precautions are not followed by the victims. The following safety rules are worth consideration:

1. Do not swim too early.
2. Stay ashore in heavy weather.
3. Keep children out of boats without life-preservers or good swimmers.
4. Teach children to swim early.
5. Wait an hour after eating, before swimming.
6. Use excessive caution when fishing from a boat after dark, especially if in strange waters.
7. Always carry extra life preservers in boats.
8. If you are deathly afraid of water, stay away from it.

One other word of value is the suggestion of experts that you try one of several floating techniques when next in the water. Many people can float indefinitely without any effort if they will tilt their head back so that only the nose is above water. The feet may extend downward vertically in the surface, but if the individual will be careful to keep his head far back, he will find he can float for hours. Try it. This or some other floating technique may save your life this summer.

Interesting Events In Grayling 23 Years Ago

INTERESTING ITEMS OF NEWS GATHERED FROM THE FILES OF THE AVALANCHE OF 23 YEAR AGO

Wilbur A. Wiseman, former resident of Grayling, has enlisted in the Merchant Marines. He left to take up his new duties several weeks ago. Bud, as he is better known to his friends here, has for the past three years sailed on the Great Lakes as an employee of the Pittsburgh Steamship Co., Cleveland, Ohio. At the time of his enlistment he was serving as a watchman on the Steamer "Calcutta" owned and operated by the Bradley Transportation Co. of Rogers City, Mich. Bud has been chosen to attend an officers' training school in the near future. At present he is on sea duty, berthed as a wheelman. He writes that he likes his work and a wonderful ship. Bud is a nephew of Mr. and Mrs. Jensen Ziebell of Grayling, with whom he had made his home since he was four years old. Mrs. Wiseman and daughter Patsy are making their home with her parents in Kalkaska during Wilbur's absence.

Born to Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Pond, a daughter. She will be named Cheryl Vivian.

Michigan Conservation—Returning from a series of stream measurements in Cheboygan County we saw an elk on the US-27 right of way, just south of the electric traffic recorder about 5 miles north of Vanderbilt. From a distance the animal appeared to be a mule or a small horse, but on closer approach its identity was clearly recognizable. The dam at the outlet of Lake Margrethe is being utilized as a veritable incubator by large turtles. The earthfill is pock-marked with opened nest holes, and the appreciation of this concentration is attested by signs of foxes, coons or other animals having dug out and eaten the contents of numerous nests. Investigation of a new nest revealed 17 eggs, spherical and about an inch in diameter. Warden and Sara Smith have undertaken the job of hatching them in a warm sandbank behind the Smith cottage. Visitors to the dam are asked to refrain from molesting the control planks. These are regulated by the Geological Survey Division or by Mr. Hans Peterson, Grayling Hatchery Superintendent, to maintain a constant lake level. Experiences of the past three years have shown that the lake may be kept within a 2-inch range of vertical level, which makes Lake Margrethe one of the most stable in the state.

"Outdoors With Gordie"

by Gordon Charles

In days not too long past, the average "sportsman" was a person who went hunting or fishing with a single purpose in mind—to kill something.

An increasing number of people, however, are finding they don't necessarily have to kill off part of the outdoors in order to find enjoyment there. This can hold true, even though a person might actually be engaged in hunting or fishing.

It is likely that those who enjoy "just looking" already outnumber the combined total of hunters or fishermen. If you take into consideration those sportsmen who are satisfied with a day spent outdoors, even though they may fail to get either game or fish, then the "just looking" group is already in the majority.

Nobody has to be a rugged, he-man individual, such as the sportsman likes to portray himself, in order to enjoy what he finds outdoors. Thousands of folks, for example, enjoy automobile drives through the countryside with no thought in mind other than to enjoy looking at scenery and other attractions.

Wildlife close to a road is always viewed with interest. The first green-up of early spring brings deer out near the roads and within easy range of amateur photographers, or the "just lookers". Spring, also brings sharp-tailed grouse out to their traditional dancing grounds. In areas where these birds are still found, many a nature lover is willing to get up at 3:00 a. m. to move into a blind on these grounds to watch the birds perform their fascinating mating rituals.

Hiking is a year-round hobby with some who like to take advantage of the peaceful quiet found in roadless areas. They look for rare wild flowers to photograph, identify new bird species, collect rocks or possibly pick mushrooms or wild berries in season. Trees are a source of enjoyment to some who like to look for new big tree records. Where snow or soft ground is found, there are bird and animal tracks to be observed.

Swimming, canoeing, water skiing, all leave a water surface unchanged and are legitimate uses of this resource. There are many, many other parts of the outdoors being used today by outdoor-minded people who can enjoy killing something.

The hunter with a bulging game pocket or the fisherman with a heavy string of fish do not have any priority on the outdoors.

Neither is more important nor less important than other users of the outdoors.

Appreciation of the outdoors by a majority of all the people is an absolute necessity, if there is to be any kind of future for our natural resources.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL...
ALL FOR THE CHURCH
The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

conference and formal portrait session which followed. Mary Lou performed outstandingly for Grayling. She has received a $500 scholarship from Pepsi Cola and many other fine gifts from other well-known companies. Plus that golden opportunity that perhaps she may receive other recognition. Many former outstanding contestants have received additional scholarships and offers from TV, show business producers, radio, etc.

A special thank you from the Pageant Committee goes to Little Smokey of Bear Mountain who so graciously and generously donated Mary Lou's page in the Miss Michigan program book.

I know that I speak for Grayling when I conveyed to Mary Lou my pride and happiness for her. She certainly was a shining representative for Grayling for our moment on "Miss America Mainstreets". These are cherished memories for me of a most delightful week at the Miss Michigan Pageant.

He hopes to be able to teach proper river etiquette and to help reduce river littering. The program would extend to fishermen and property owners as well.

It will have a range covering the entire county and will aid in law enforcement efforts. He urged cooperation in reporting vandalism along the river system.

Letters To The Editor

Portsmouth, N. H. June 22, 1967

Dear Editor:

The Grayling is finally in the water. She went down the ways at 12:18 p. m. today after many postponements. We found out that the delays were needed to increase the quality of the ship and to incorporate several new safety features.

We looked all around but didn't see anyone else from Grayling. It is a shame that no one else got here. However, as we were going into the officers' club after the launching and christening for the reception we got to talking to the couple behind us. They turned out to be Mr. and Mrs. Don Charron from Mechanicsburg, Pa. Don is a 1935 graduate of Grayling High.

We met most of the launching dignitaries. The sponsor and her husband, Mr. and Mrs. Lee Cullen of Chicago, are skiing enthusiasts and will be up next winter to give Bear Mountain a try. Mr. Cullen is also interested in archery and was already familiar with Bear Archery and the exploits of Fred Bear. He hopes to be able to visit the plant when he is in Grayling.

We had planned to leave home on Saturday morning to start our trip but rushed to Owosso Friday as my father was taken to the hospital. Fortunately it was not serious so we there Saturday, crossed into Canada at Pt. Huron and got to Niagara Falls. We attempted to see the Falls at night under the colored lights but it was raining too hard so we went back Sunday morning.

We drove part way across New York Sunday and camped near Oswego that night. On Monday we went through the Adirondack Mountains to Ticonderoga, N. Y. We camped at the southern tip of Lake Champlain. Tuesday we crossed Vermont and New Hampshire and got to Portsmouth. We hadn't seen any rain (finally) on Monday and Tuesday but it rained so hard Wednesday that we didn't do anything. Now that the Grayling is launched we'll go on around Boston tomorrow and camp near Plymouth tomorrow night. We'll sight-see from there until Sunday when we'll move on to Newport, R. I., for my two week's Naval training and then head for Canada.

We are enclosing a clipping from the local paper on the launching and a copy of the launching program.

So long for now.

Sincerely,

Art Thayer and family

teen dances, everyone who attended seemed to enjoy themselves greatly. Last Wednesday evening students who attended the Square Dance were instructed in several of the basic movements by Mr. and Mrs. Don Sorenson and Mr. and Mrs. Less Goss. It is hoped that as the summer progresses, interest in our Square Dances will increase. These dances are held each Wednesday evening, beginning at 8 o'clock at the Elementary School for all students of grades 5, 6, 7, and 8.

Tenagers are reminded that there is a teen dance every Friday night at the Elementary School from 8 to 11. Once again last week the crowd was small, but everyone had a wonderful time. So come on teenagers and Square Dancers. Let's get out and enjoy ourselves. If you never come, you'll never know how much fun you have missed.
